FAIR MAIDS GRADUATED AT LASSELL

Seminary Seniors Have Commencement Exercises in Auburndale Church.

3 IN HOUSEKEEPING CLASS
The fifty-fourth annual graduation exer-

ness of LaSalle Seminary began at 10:30 P. M. today in the Aulandale Congregational Church. The large auditorium was filled with undergraduates and friends of the seniors, the gathering including many members of former classes.

Miss Mary F. Curtiss of the music department rendered several organ selections, and following prayer Rev. George P. Eckman, D. D., of New York City, delivered the commencement address. The presentation of diplomas was made by Dr. C. C. Stradgon, the retiring principal of the school. The class colors, green and white, predominated.

Previous to the graduation exercises it was announced in chapel that prizes in reading had been awarded to Louise Withers Brown³ of Mason City, Iowa; Julia Belle Hamilton, Utten, Mont., and Farrell Russell Degen, Pasadena, Cal. The two latter, together with Edith Leighton, Red Oak, Iowa; Mary Kathryn Dingus, ...

The officers of the class are as follows: President, Leona M. Benner; vice president, Charlotte P. Ryder; secretary, Leona H. Goodall; treasurer, Madeleine R. Smith. The graduates of the sewing society gathered for the last time at the school. Keet and sang their class songs. In the afternoon there will be a reunion of the graduates and alumnae.

The list of graduating members: Leona Margaret Benner, Wapakoneta, O.; Gerude Bragdon, Bayonne, N. J.; Agnes Grace Bullard, Caryville, Cane Woodruff, New York; Leona Helen Goodall, Grandford, Me.; Grace Thomas Griswold, Providence, R. I.; Elizabeth Love, Indianapolis, Ind.; Madeleine Reveridge, LAMM.

SUSPECT FIREBUGS IN NEWPORT HOTEL BLAZE

PROPRIETOR AND BRIDE BARELY ESCAPE
NEW CLIFF HOUSE FLAMES; SON DEAD.

rown Potter, the Turner and Franklinites and the magnificent Summer cottage of Anthony Chaulier, which adjoins the pavilion at Easton's beach was so blown by some of the sparks, which were driven by the strong southwest wind, but the damage was not serious.

The New Cliff Hotel was a large wooden structure, owned by the heirs of Samuel Jones of Philadelphia.

A long extension of the building was blown off and the roof of this section contained many rooms and suites.

The damage is estimated at $70,000.

500 GUESTS ARE DRIVEN OUT OF

NEW YORK, June 9.—While most of the two hundred and fifty guests of the annual Home of the Heroes convention at Westchester County, were sleeping early today, the started in the three-story northeast wing and in two hours this part of the structure was destroyed.

An explosion, the cause of which is still a mystery, caused the big "H" shaped winged structure to quiver from end to end. Immediately the cry of fire rang through the Hotel. Within a few minutes a wild rush was made for the hallways.

It was scarcely five minutes after the explosion when the flames had swept up through air shafts, had attacked the hallways and had reached the third floor.

The women and children, of whom there

The departments from Moult Verno and surrounding towns were called, and in short time the scene swarmed with firemen, who put up a gallant fight in the face of wretched conditions of water pressure.
